THE GAZETTE.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15.

There was a convention held in Milwaukee on Thursday by the "personal liberty" opponents, or rather by those who believe in free saloons and plenty of them. There were some speeches made and resolutions adopted. Among the sentiments delivered was one by C. S. Ellsworth, who seemed to announce with an air of glorification that John B. Fitch, the noted prohibition orator, fell dead in Boston the other day, "while he," boastingly said, "still lives with all the comforts and privileges that a traveling man can find." Another sentiment was by Mr. Hayes, of Massachusetts, who declared that it was a gross injustice to tax the saloons, and that every man should be at ease to engage in selling whisky in the vice business or any other.

The platform took strong grounds against prohibition and even any measure that tended to restrain the saloon influence.

The purpose of this convention was to organize for the campaign of next year when the saloon influence would be in a measure prepared for the conflict. There is not a liquor man in the state, however stupid, but can see that the time is coming in Wisconsin when the people will be asked to meet one of the greatest questions of the day—that of the saloon in politics and in society. It may not come in a form of a proposition to amend the constitution relative to the manufacture and sale of liquors, but it will come at least in some way to practically check the growing evil of the saloon power. It would be well to let the people vote on the constitutional amendment, taking the question completely out of politics, and if the submission scheme can't be carried through the legislature, then to try the local option law which is doing such splendid service for temperance in Georgia.

Prohibition is well enough in states where it can be carried and when carried enforced, but the experience has been that the third party is underhanded and bushwhacking leadership, and thereby the cause of temperance is damaged rather than helped. Prohibition has been lost in Tennessee by a majority against it of 27,693, and in Texas by over $10,000. It was lost in Michigan by the vituperative denunciations of prohibitionists against the better class of temperance people in that state, but the republicans were wiser than their enemies, the democrats and third party prohibitionists, and enacted a local option law "before the echoes of the amendment battle died out." The law is in operation, and before a year it will place three-fourths of the counties of Michigan under the full influence of that law. Practical temperance people will say that "three-fourths of a loaf is better than none," even when applied to the suppression of the saloon. If local option were pursued in Wisconsin, it would place a good deal more than half of the counties in the "dry" list, which would be infinitely better than prohibition whatever.

The proceedings of the Milwaukee saloon convention point to the fact that some day soon there will be a fierce contest in this state over the liquor question. It will demand the wisest judgment, and the best intelligence of the temperance people, to make the campaign effective. A false movement or an inharmonious action on the part of temperance people, may prolong the curse of the rum power. Therefore, whatever is done, let it be done with that wisdom and intelligence that become men of sober minds and practical sense, and the result will not be defeat.

There does not seem to be any limit to the crop resources of this country. The wide extent of the drought during the past summer caused well-founded fear that the corn crop would be short this year, but in the north it promises to bear large as ever, and in the south it is greater by 37,000,000 bushels than it was last year. The agricultural bureau at Washington gives the average condition of the corn crop in ten southern states compared with last year, and in bushels as follows:

	1886	1887
Maryland	16,070,000	18,000,000
Virginia	33,951,000	32,753,000
North Carolina	32,611,000	37,155,000
South Carolina	15,783,000	15,915,000
Georgia	5,133,000	4,867,000
Alabama	22,239,000	22,881,000
Mississippi	10,321,000	10,450,000
Louisiana	10,321,000	10,450,000
Texas	50,217,000	50,213,000
Total	230,133,000	252,412,000

Heretofore most of these states have been compelled to rely upon the northern states for a good supply of corn, but the increased production in the south will lessen this demand and as the corn crop in the north is fully up to the average, on the whole, the northern states will be forced to find a market abroad for their surplus. The south is going to have a large cotton crop as well as corn. Last month was the driest ever known in the south in the cotton trade. There were more sales sent from plantations and interior towns to shipping places on the seaboard and rivers, than ever before known in the history of the south, and yet the cotton crop has not yet begun to move, so to speak. Such crops of corn and cotton and such productions of iron and coal were never known in the south when the slavepower controlled those states.

The many singular features of the campaign in New York is the New York Herald, the administration organ going over to the support of Colonel Grant for secretary of state. Part of its language in its flop over to this: "By all means vote for Col. Fred Grant, the republican nominee for secretary of state, the son of a worthy sire, who was the saviour of the Union." The Herald wants to excuse itself in its new departure by suggesting that even if New York does go republican this fall it would not mean that the republicans would carry the state in the presidential election next year. This must be quite amazing to the New York democrats to see their greatest newspaper flop over to a republican candidate and then intamate that it is no use for the democrats to attempt to carry the state. There does not seem to be a very well organized effort on the part of the democrats of the Empire State to carry the election this fall, although the state convention affirmed that a democratic defeat this year would be taken as a personal defeat for Mr. Cleveland. Just how the democrats in New York figure out a victory this year, or hope for one next year, does not seem very clear to the average political observer. Mr. Cleveland has not the warm support of the leading democratic cities of New York city. They don't seem to care whether he is voted up or down, and this spirit is throwing the present democratic campaign into a very unfavorable condition.

The reason why Mr. Cleveland hurried through Springfield, from the Philadelphian Press:

The venerable John M. Palmer, of Illinois, who is to the democracy of that state what Allen G. Thurman is to his party in Ohio, is amazed and indignant at Mr. Cleveland's refusal to stop at Springfield and visit the tomb of Lincoln. General Palmer should not be unreasonable in this matter. He should bear in mind that Mr. Cleveland had an appointment to inspect a brewery in Milwaukee and had no time to fool with monuments.

Southerner Sherman does not appear to be taking a very active interest in the Ohio campaign, and this fact is causing some comment upon both sides of the political fence in the Buckeye State—Exchange.

In fact it is not necessary for John Sherman, or any other republican to be especially active in the Ohio campaign. General Powell and his democratic friends are making a good campaign and victory sure for the republicans.

Protection has nothing to do with increasing the rate of wages. It is our cheap lands that keep up wages, and that always kept them up as compared with wages in more densely populated countries—Philadelphia Record.

Is that so? Then why didn't cheap lands during the several periods of free trade keep up wages. A free trader can never hit the nail on the head when he tries to give protection a rap.

The Cleveland board of health has lately had an audience made of thirty-eight of the much-advertised "tonics," and found all of them more or less alcohol, some containing as high as 40 per cent., and one even 47.5 per cent of alcohol. That is the way much of the bad whisky is disposed of. It is put into "tonics" to kill any stomach and sold for three or four prices.

A candidate on tap is one who goes about shaking hands with his constituents.

A democrat will probably say that such a remark as this is a republican slap at Mr. Cleveland. But it isn't. It is from the New Orleans Picayune, the leading democratic paper of that city.

Reform has been so vigorously at work over in Iowa that only six republicans postmasters remain in office in that state. It is such a monument as this that reform is erecting in all the states.

The Sugar Trust's Immense Capital. New York, Oct. 15.—It was learned yesterday that the sugar trust, now being formed, will be capitalized on a basis of $100,000,000. The $80,000,000 capital thus bearing the amount of capital up higher than had been reported. It was also ascertained that John E. Sprague, Jr., treasurer of the Ilion, New York, Sugar Refining Company, was to be made general manager of the organization.

Illinois' Account with Uncle Sam. Queer Japanese Shoes.

In Japan children's shoes are made of stock, wood, seal skin, with cord. The stockings resembling a mittens, having a separate piece for the toes. As these shoes are lifted only by the toe the heel make a rattling sound as their owners walk, which is quite stunning in a crowd. They are not worn in the house, they would injure the soft straw mat on the floor. You leave your shoes at the door. Every house built with reference to the floor, each room being from eight to sixteen feet in diameter, so there is no much room for mat. They think it extravagant in us to require a whole room to ourselves. The Japanese shoe give perfect freedom to the foot. The beauty of the human foot is only seen in the Japanese. They have no corns, no ingrown nails, no distorted joints.—Merchant World.

KNIGHTS IN A WRANGLE.

BEECHER'S PULPIT.

Mr. Powdery Said to Have Made Threats of Resignation.

ALLEGED CAUSES LEADING TO HIS ACTION.

A Deplorable Lack of Harmony in the Convention—Defeat of a Resolution Censuring the Master Workman—Davitt Not Initiated.

KNIGHTS HAVE A HOT FIGHT.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 15.—At 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning General Master Workman Powdery attacked his signature with a sharp pocket knife, and cut off a portion. He will withhold the presentation of this document to the assembly pending its action upon a report of the Committee on Laws, which was submitted just before adjournment last evening. The report in question recommended the dropping of two members of the General Executive Board, and the placing of the appointing power of the membership of that body in the hands of the General Master Workman. At the close of the session of the administration's eighth day, the St. Louis Knights and their friends had a hubbub and one of the members was so demoniacal in his manifestations of dissent that he was called before the bar and reprimanded. It had been hoped by the anti-administration men that the Powdery element would refrain from forcing a fight, but the word had gone out that night that the consequence of Barry's resignation was that the St. Louis Knights and his defiance of the administration would be tolerated no longer. On Wednesday, his presence and that of Bailey will no longer be tolerated on the Executive Board. Bailey, who is very popular with various factions, will have the full support of the anti-administration factions, but Bailey's chances are more problematical. It is also on the call of the anti-administration that the old parliamentarians will probably witness the hottest fight that the General Assembly has ever experienced. At 1 o'clock nearly every delegate is in attendance upon one or another of the many caucuses that are being held, and the anti-Powderyites claim that the administration will be defeated.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 15.—According to the latest news from the Knights of Labor, the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor, which can be remembered by the old parliamentarians of the order. Two resolutions were before the body—one censuring the strike off, and the other, reported from the committee, approving his action. When it came to a vote the resolution of censure was defeated by an overwhelming majority on a viva voce vote, and the resolution of approval on a call of the yeas and nays was carried by 116 to 10.

At yesterday's session adverse reports on the following propositions were made by the Committee on Law, and the reports concerned in: To add a general audit of the official staff of the order; to reduce the members of the General Executive Board to three; to establish State bureaus of supplies and information; and to make arrangements to the constitution, authorizing the establishment of trades unions in local assemblies. It was rejected on the ground that the assemblies have already all the power in this direction consistent with discipline, while giving permission to elect or nominate trade unions to regulate the time of the delivery of orders to jurisdictional trades unions. Both the resolutions were carried by a narrow majority.

ALL FOR PEACE.

ARRIVED IN NEW YORK OF THREE MEMBERS OF THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT, AND THE DELEGATION TO OBTAIN AGREEMENTS ON AN ARBITRATION TREATY WITH ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Three members of the House of Commons arrived in the city yesterday by the steamer City of Chicago, forming a part of an arbitration delegation whose members propose to confer with the President and Congress in order to take steps to conclude with Great Britain a treaty under which the two governments will give mutual satisfaction in the event of any dispute arising between them.

A BUTIC MEMORY.

Went out some time long ago,
To a summer vacation of
That fatal, fatal meeting. Oh,
How glad I'd be to forget!

The summer day was near its end.
The red sun shone like a friend,
Down through the meadow passed.

Her rustic beauty charmed me quite,
Her smile, her modest grace,
All else forgot, that summer night
I gazed into her face.

But quickly the separation came,
A parting shot through my heart;
Our ways were not to be the same;
Our fate forced us apart.

Ah me! how painful memory now
Fills my recollection; but how Can I forget it?—

BRIEFLETS.

—Mrs. J. R. Botford is seriously ill.

—Seats for "Alone in London" are selling rapidly.

—"Alone in London" is likely to prove a strong attraction.

—Easy business writing taught at the writing school.

—Janesville Building and Loan Association—pay day on Monday.

—Several Janesville people are seeing Booth and Barrett in Chicago.

—Adjutant General Chapman will inspect the Rifles next Wednesday.

—Milwaukee street looks more like "a thing of shreds and patches" than ever.

—New has been received of the death of Charles Ellis, formerly of this city, in Chicago.

—The common council will hold a regular meeting on Monday evening—that is, if a quorum attend.

—An "Irreconcileable" is soon to be announced by the ladies of the Congregational church. The idea is imported from the east.

—Several officers from the Janesville camp of the Sons of Veterans will go to Beloit Monday to muster in a camp in that city.

—Mrs. J. C. Edlin received a large company of ladies at her home in the first ward this afternoon. Tea was served from three to five.

—President Hiram Bump will lead the Anglo-Worm club back from the north tomorrow. One of the trophies brought along will be a white fawn.

—Another large congregation listened to the Rev. Dr. DeWitt at the Baptist church last evening. His sermons will evidently result in much good.

—Mr. Thomas Lappin's condition has greatly improved within the past few hours. From all indications, Mr. Lappin's recovery will now be speedy.

—Dr. James Mills' pleasant home on East Milwaukee street was full of jollity last evening, from garret to cellar. The Presbyterian has descended full force and the social that was held proved an undoubted success.

—George Collier, who was arrested in Janesville Thursday and taken to Elkhorn, for having deceived a young woman who is now a county charge, has been released. The matter was settled by a justice court marriage.

—Mr. F. C. Cook, the west side jeweler, has something to say in another column about watches. Mr. Cook has a model store, a well assort and complete stock, and enjoys an enviable reputation as a jeweler. Call and examine his stock.

—The editor of the Recorder, who is also a member of the board of education, is evidently opposed to teaching music in our public schools, judging from the tone of an article in his paper this morning. Only a little prejudice, that's all.

—Miss Anna Boylan died this morning at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary M. Boylan, Adams street, fourth ward, after a lingering struggle with consumption. She was aged 24 years and 6 months. The funeral will be held from St. Patrick's church on Monday morning at nine o'clock.

—The ladies of the Congregational church packed a box yesterday, for the Rev. Mr. Harris, of Jackson, Mississippi. Mr. Harris was educated in Janesville, and was formerly a member of the Congregational Sunday school. The ladies will ship another box north in a few days.

—Commander-in-Chief G. B. Abbott of the Sons of Veterans, will be in Janesville Tuesday and will inspect the Janesville camp Tuesday night. It is probable that while here he will announce his appointments for the state, as a meeting of delegates will be held at the Myers House Tuesday morning.

—Another large company was happily entertained by Miss Susie Jeffs and Messrs. W. S. and D. K. Jeffs, last evening. The guests were received in parlors beautifully decorated with autumn leaves. The company included many of those prominent among the young society people of the city, and was thoroughly congenial.

—The Baptist church now has a new church choir, consisting of a quartette. Miss Baldwin, one of the teachers at the institution for the Blind, soprano; Mrs. O. B. Conrad, alto; C. N. Vankirk, tenor, and Clarence L. Clark, bass, with Mrs. O. L. Clark on organ. This is a capital combination of voices, forming one of the finest quartettes in the city.

—James Palmer, of Racine's most prominent and popular citizens, has associated himself in the hardware business at Janesville, with Mr. N. Griswold, an old schoolmate. The Journal writes, "J. Palmer, ever successful and ever discontinued, and I will go to him for any responsible for any contracts, dealings or actions of the said Henry Murphy as I am in no way connected with him in business or otherwise."

—Barley Campbell's comedy-drama, "The Galley Slave," was the attraction at Lappin's hall last evening. The play was fairly well presented, Howard Coe, especially winning much applause. This afternoon the hall was devoted to a matinee for the especial benefit of the school children. The play was Maggie Mitchell's old favorite, "Fauchon."

—Twenty hunters, six for hounds, a colored winter and two cases of carefully corked ammunition, went through town from Rockford to Elsie Station to-day. They were the component parts of the Rockford Hunting club and were out "blitzed." Another hunting party followed them on the noon train coming from Belvidere and stopping at —A Temple of Honor convention for the first congressional district will be held in this city on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, the 19th and 20th inst. A public meeting will be held on Wednesday evening at Court Street M. E. church, at which addresses will be given by A. J. Grobe, Grand Worthy Vice-Templar, and H. H. Giles. Other speakers of note are expected to be present. The meeting will commence at half past seven o'clock, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

—Walter R. Myers' divorce case, just decided in Chicago, had already been tried before Judge Bennett. It came in June last year. The plaintiff and Mrs. Peter Myers were sworn on one side, and the defendant on the other. Judgment was rendered against the plaintiff for costs and for one hundred and twenty-five dollars, to be paid to Mrs. Myers for suit money. The divorce sought was refused. H. McIlroy and J. W. Bates appeared for the plaintiff, and Winans & Flyer for the defendant.

—In our pleasant journeying's through the churches, the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Society has been left to the last, not from any premeditated design, but because of necessity some one had to be last. Perhaps it is in fulfillment of the prophecy—the last shall be first—that we find the history of this little blade church full of interest.

The early services of this society were held in Young America block. The first pastor was Rev. Dr. Borg, who also served the Germans, then creeds and friends being similar.
